

Wayne J. Miller has served as a facilitator (also known as "mediator") over 800 times since 1998, as well as serving as both a plaintiff's and neutral arbitrator. This extensive service reflects the trust and confidence that skilled attorneys (both plaintiff and defense) place in Wayne's discretion, judgment and experience.