

Kevin is an experienced trial attorney who has represented the interests of accident victims and healthcare providers for 27 years. He specializes in litigating issues involving the rights of injured persons, medical professionals and facilities under the Michigan No-Fault Law.

Kevin is a 1982 graduate of Hofstra University and the University of Detroit School of Law, where he was a member of the American Inns of Court Trial Advocacy program. He serves as a Wayne County Circuit Court case evaluator, independent arbitrator, and is a member of the Michigan Association for Justice.

Contact Kevin: kmcneely@msapc.net